As a neurologist, many of my patients have a difficult time driving. Back to Health In-Home Rehab provides an indispensable service by traveling to the patient's home. If it weren't for their services, many of my patients would not have access to any outpatient therapy services. Their level of care and compassion is exemplary. They are professional, concerned and have a very high quality skill set in the field of physical/occupational therapy. My patients constantly rave about how happy they are with Back to Health. Needless to say, we highly recommend Back to Health's home PT and OT services.
